

Proposal from the European Executive for 2013 European Championships

The Shortlist from the 2010 EAGM:

European Laser 4.7 Championship:

Mornar Split, Croatia

European Laser Senior Championship:

Gdynia, Poland

Balatonfured, Hungary

European Laser Youth Championship:

Gdynia, Poland

Balatonfured, Hungary

Dun Laoghaire, Ireland

European Laser Masters Championship:

Royal Swedish Yacht Club, Sweden

Puck, Poland

Balatonfured, Hungary

Since the shortlist was agreed, the bidding club in Ireland has communicated that they will now find it difficult to host a European Youth Championship in July - so have asked that their bid be considered for the European Senior Championship instead.

2013 World Championships Venues

World Laser 4.7 & Laser Standard Junior Championships:

Europe

World Laser Radial Men, Women & youth Championship:

Asia

World Laser Masters & Laser Standard Senior Championships:

Oman,

The ILCA World Council meeting on the 5th & 6th November agreed to ask the European Laser 4.7 & European Laser Standard Youth Championship hosts to make the championships also World Championships. This, however, may have some implications on the final choice of the venues, to be discussed at the meeting.

The Proposed 2013 European Championship Venues:

European Laser 4.7 Championship:

Mornar Split, Croatia

European Laser Senior Championship:

Dun Laoghaire, Ireland

European Laser Youth Championship:

Balatonfured, Hungary

European Laser Masters Championship:

Royal Swedish Yacht Club, Sweden

Reasons for the proposal:

In 2010 POL hosted the European Laser Standard Youth Championship. All other clubs selected have not recently hosted a European Championship.
